Elk Point has two winners at Whitney Lake

By Dean Kelly
Staff Writer

The hot temperatures didn't slow down the action at the Whitney Lake Rodeo on the weekend with two Elk Point residents taking home first place prize money.

Matthew Veer of Elk Point won the Calf Roping event with a time of 10 seconds flat.

Veer competed on Sunday afternoon hoping to beat Saturday's best time of 10.8.

Lance Tulloch of Mayerthorpe was the first to compete on Sunday and he started things off with a 12.7 time, which was the second best time on Sunday.

In the Junior Barrel Racing, Erica Nielson of Elk Point won her second consecutive event, finishing on Sunday with a time of 16.801.

Last weekend Nielson won her first event of the season at the Stoney Lake Rodeo. She was able to follow up that good performance with a good showing at Whitney Lake.

Her closest rival on Sunday was Laura Lilje of St. Paul who had a clean ride and turned in a time of 18.688. Rylee McKenzie also of St. Paul had the third best time on Sunday, completing the course in a time of 18.919.

In the Steer Wrestling competition, Steve Friend of Viking took first place with a time of 5.1 seconds. The second best time of the weekend also came on Saturday when Denton Hocking of Mannville had a time of 5.7 seconds.

Dean Lawes of Provost finished third with his time of 6.4 seconds.

In the Saddle Bronc competition, Dustin Duffy of Buck Lake scored 72 riding Indian Outlaw.

There was a tie for second when Colin Paly scored a 68 on Quicksand and Jeremy Tanant from Provost also scored a 68 on Bad Lands.

In Bull Riding, the challenge was holding on long enough as seven of the 25 competitors were able to register times.

Geoff Turnquist of Gwynne had the best time, scoring a 78 on Rat Patrol.

Jerry Sweeney of Vermilion scored a 77 on Air Time and Dwayne Schellenburg of Endiang scored a 77 on Rat Patrol.

In Team Roping, Dean Lawes and Lenny Lawes of Provost recorded a time of 8.2 seconds which was good enough for first place. Finishing second was Kevin Moore and Tyson Utri. Their time of 12.7 seconds was the only other time recorded in the event.

In Ladies Barrel Racing, Janet Patriquin of New Sarepta won the event with a time of 16.654 seconds. Lonnie Shulko of Smoky Lake came second with her time of 16.810.

Bensmiller led Stampede running time

He may not have been first across the finish line in the winner-takes-all $50,000 final heat, but Buddy Bensmiller of Dewberry still ended up with the best total time in the ten days of racing at the Calgary Stampede's world famous Rangeland Derby.

Bensmiller's total time for ten penalty-free runs added up to 12:53.72, 43/100 of a second faster than championship race winner Kelly Sutherland, who had a total of 12:54.15. And while Sutherland's final run of the Stampede was very profitable, it was well over a second slower than the fastest run of that evening, which saw Hugh Sinclair speed round the track in 1:14.00, shaving 1.59 seconds off the record for the newly redesigned track.

Bensmiller also collected more day money than Sutherland, adding up to a total paycheque of $27,114 for the ten days of racing. Part of that came in the form of a $10,000 bonus Bensmiller received Saturday night as part of the recognition for his aggregate win over the first nine days of racing. He also received the Richard Cosgrave Memorial trophy and the free use of a GMC truck for a year.

When called up on stage with his outriders to accept the awards, Bensmiller said "Well, I couldn't ask for much more. The week's been going great."

The four outriders who assisted Bensmiller in his aggregate win, Dale Grey, Wayne Wright, Ross Knight and Roger Moore, each received a handsome trophy buckle. Knight, who also drove a wagon in Calgary for the first time this year, won the Orville Strandquist award as the best rookie driver.

The final night of the Stampede marked the final Rangeland Derby run for two retiring chuckwagon drivers, Ray Croteau and Dallas Dorchester.

Speaking of information, the other day I was looking for a recipe for Rhubarb Cake and I found one in one of my old cook books. It turned out really nice. So if anyone is interested, here is the recipe. It comes from the book, "Grandma's Farm Kitchen" by Carole Baraniski

Wells.

RHUBARB CRUMB CAKE

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking soda
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp cinnamon
1 1/2 cups finely diced

rhubarb

Cream butter, brown sugar, egg and vanilla. Add dry ingredients alternately with sour milk. Stir in rhubarb. Prepare topping:

1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tsp cinnamon
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 tbsps flour

1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Combine topping ingredients and work into crumbs. Sprinkle evenly over batter. Bake in 350° oven for 40 to 45 minutes.

Note: When I made this recipe, I doubled it and it filled a 9 x 13 pan and when baked, the cake was high.

White Sox travel to Strome for Provincials

By Doug Bassett
Elk Point Minor Ball

Provincial round robin play two weekends ago took the White Sox to Strome, a tough little ball town that has produced many provincial teams in the past and this year it looks like it will be no different.

In the first game on Saturday, the Sox came up against the Acme Angles, who won the midget provincial championship last year. The boys' sticks were hot once again and they had great pitching by Chris Brown, a free agent the Sox picked up from Tofield. The Sox took a 4-2 lead, going into the top of the sixth, when the Angles loaded the bases and their cleanup batter hit a grand slam to make it 6-4 in their favor. A big mistake by the Sox manager for not pulling his starting pitcher when he lost his heat, cost the Sox the game... hindsight is always 20-20.

TIC talk

By Sherry Pelech
Tourist Information Clerk

William Shakespeare wrote, "That which we call a rose, by any other name would smell as sweet." Well, maybe... but in this age when even the simplest phrases are changed into 'bureaucratic double-speak,' what he probably meant to say was, "A dicotyledonous plant of the Family Rosaceae, Genus Rosa by alternative nomenclature exudes olfactory molecules of a cognate similarity or an analogous equivalent to the saccharine carbohydrate C12, H22, O11." And on the same theme, did you know that the hospital department formerly known as x-ray is now 'Diagnostic Imaging'? It seems that things a person has been familiar with all their life would, indeed, smell just as sweet if you only knew what they were.

A guy came into the Tourist Information Centre (TIC) the other day and asked, "Where is the underground plant?"

Underground plant? Like a potato or a rutabaga? "You mean some kind of root vegetable?" we inquired carefully.

He looked at us oddly. "No, the Canadian Salt Underground Plant." He spoke slowly with precise enunciation.

"Oh, the Salt Plant," we said, pleased to be speaking the same language. "But it's not underground."

"Not underground?" He seemed surprised. "The salt is on top of the surface?"

"Oh no. The salt is underground. The plant is on the surface," we explained.

He indicated that he didn't care if the plant was underground, overground or (expletive deleted) floating in the air. He just wanted to know where it was. He indicated a large truck parked on the highway, right under a bold sign that said "No Parking Anytime." The truck was piled high with Unidentified Lying Objects that looked important. As he seemed to be very eager to deliver them, we gave him careful directions. He said he had already been out there and there was no Salt Plant. We insisted there was. If there wasn't a Salt Plant any longer, our husband has not been telling the complete truth about all these night shifts he's been working lately. We told him to go look again. He left and didn't come back. We hope he found it.

Vacation safety tips

Prepared for the woods?

Summer has finally arrived and many of us will be heading for the woods for that long-awaited picnic, fishing or camping trip. To help you prepare for that trip, here are a few basic safety tips from Emergency Preparedness Canada and Parks Canada.

* Travel plans — always tell someone where and when you are going, and the return date. Making travel plans also means getting as much information as possible about the area you will be visiting, including weather conditions and what services and facilities are available.

* Equipment — make sure all your equipment is in good working order and that you know how to use it. If in doubt about what you need, local outfitters or recreational organizations will be glad to advise you. Don't forget, a first aid kit is also part of your equipment.

* Make sure your clothing and footwear are appropriate for the terrain and weather conditions. Wool is best in wet or cold weather. Always wear or carry headgear (a neckerchief can serve as both a hat and a sling) as you can lose as much as 60 percent of your body heat through your head.

* "Footprint" children's camping shoes by having them step on a sheet of tinfoil placed over soft material such as a towel and then label the footprints. This procedure will help searchers identify the tracks and possibly the direction of travel of a lost child.

* Hypothermia (loss of body heat) is the number one killer of outdoor recreationists. Bring matches in a waterproof container (with fire, you can keep warm, dry clothes and signal for help.) You can also protect yourself from hypothermia by building a shelter. A variety of shelters can be formed using materials found in the forest, e.g. tree branches and natural formations such as caves or fallen trees. Garbage bags, compact and easily carried, can be cut to serve as a poncho; additionally, bright orange and yellow bags can help searchers locate lost individuals. Another good idea is a "blaze" orange vest and hat — the kind hunters and anglers use to make themselves visible.

* Avoid wild animals that come too close or seem too friendly.

* Fear and panic are the worst enemies of someone lost in the woods and, in the majority of cases, it is far safer to stay in one place and wait to be rescued than trying to walk to safety. Teaching a child to stay near a tree, particularly near a clearing, portrays trees as friends during times of panic and also encourages a lost child to stay in one place, perhaps avoiding fatigue.

* Pin a whistle to children's shirts; three signals, whether blasts on a whistle or shouts, are universally recognized as a distress call.

White Sox

Saturday night, fastball pitcher Jordan Bassett got called to the hill for the Sox, and pitched a great game against the host team, Strome, allowing only five hits and three earned runs in seven innings. This game the Sox stated in the hole by three runs in the first inning because of some fielding errors, but battled back to tie the game 4-4 in the sixth. Once again it came down to the bottom of the seventh, and the Sox were cheated out of the obvious tying run when Shaun Moroziuk slid under the tag at home, but was called out, losing another tough one, which the competitive boys did not take well and let the plate umpire know so!

Sunday the Sox met Edmonton Warriors, and with Tyler Warawa on the mound, they were no contest for the Sox big bats who finished them off 16 to 2 in five innings. Taking into consideration that the Sox have three regular bantam players in their lineup, Brett Kopeck, Jon Yake and big lefthander Greg Zarowny, they are doing very well. The boys have had two tough weekends playing Alberta's top calibre teams, but are still hitting well against the best pitchers in the province. With one round robin left, the way they have been playing, they are still in the running to go to the big show in August, where the top eight teams in the province will meet in Consort.

This past weekend, the Sox hosted Legal, Clyde and Rimbey. Watch for coverage of these games next week.

READiscover beasts and bugs with us

By Karina Mitchell
READiscover Coordinator

This week's theme is Beasts and Bugs. It invokes many responses, depending on who you are talking to. Children love it! The thought of creepy crawlies and wiggly slimy creatures is a world of opportunity and they want in on the action.

So it is off to Whitney Lakes Provincial Park with the Thursday Group (July 24) to hunt out as many bugs as we can find (I hope I can find my rubber boots!). Wendy Harrison, a Parks employee, has prepared a program that will introduce us to the variety of insects that make up the ecosystems of our surrounding lakes. She has planned a fun day, full of exploring and learning. Thanks, Wendy!

For the Tuesday group, we will be walking to Fins, Feathers and Furry Things... to check out the animals that hang out there. Maybe we'll be able to pet some of the animals? Maybe even a snake (Maybe not!). Either way, it'll be a treat to get some first hand experience, learning about the different 'beasts.' Which animals bite again?

And we can't forget the beasts at the Library. We are slowly collecting a group of eight-legged creatures hanging from our ceiling. I think Michele has something to do with them and she is hinting about candy being inside these big insects. We'll have to wait and see. Until then, there is the bug toss. Ask for bugs at the circulation desk and toss away. If you do it right, the bugs stick to the spider web. Come and check it out, we promise nothing bites!
